Objet : Participation à l'Université d'Été de la CNUCED, 1-7 août 2021.

J'ai l'honneur de vous informer que la Mission Permanente de l'Algérie auprès de l'ONU à Genève nous a adressé un courrier par lequel elle porte à notre connaissance de l'invitation adressée par le Secrétariat de la Conférence des Nations Unies sur le Commerce et le Développement (CNUCED) aux Etats membres, à l'effet de désigner des représentants pour participer à l'Université d'Été prévue du 1^{er} au 7 août 2021, conjointement organisée par le CNUCED et "Young Scholars Initiative" de l'"Institute for New Economic Thinking".

Vous voudriez bien trouver ci-joint, le programme préliminaire de cette manifestation.

Aussi, d'autres informations afférentes à cette université d'été sont disponibles sur le site web de la CNUCED : <https://unctad.org/meeting/unctad-ysi-summer-school-2021>

A cet égard, je vous saurais gré des dispositions que vous voudriez bien prendre en vue de nous communiquer des propositions de candidats pour participer à cette manifestation.

Veuillez recevoir, Messieurs les Présidents, l'expression de mes salutations distinguées.

UNCTAD YSI SUMMER SCHOOL 2021

on Globalization & Development Strategies

Held virtually from 1-7 August 2021

Still Swimming Against the Tide?
40 Years of Thinking on Trade & Development

Organized by

Division of Globalization & Development Strategies (UNCTAD)
Young Scholars Initiative of the Institute for New Economic Thinking (YSI)

The 4th UNCTAD YSI Summer School celebrates the approach and legacy of UNCTAD’s annual Trade and Development Report (TDR). The school will bring together UNCTAD experts, academics, diplomats, and young scholars from across the globe for lively and stimulating intellectual debates.

In the mid twentieth century, the economic thinking that dominated international debates failed to address the needs of the global south. An institution was needed to provide pathways to balanced growth and development and UNCTAD has worked to fill that void since its founding in 1964.

With the rise of the neoliberal order in the 1980s, UNCTAD’s reports focused on providing alternative ideas, standing up against the global motto that “there is no alternative.” For years, the institution’s annual publications swam against the stream.

Now, there is an opening to reconsider some long-held beliefs: The world seeks to “build back better” and address the looming issues ahead. But a powerful reminder remains necessary to ensure that the efforts lead to prosperity for all, not just the few. That is the relevance of UNCTAD’s approach to trade, finance and development today.

This year marks the 40th anniversary of UNCTAD’s first TDR and we are thrilled to invite you to reflect on the challenges faced, the progress made, and the road ahead.

About the Organizers

UNCTAD

UNCTAD is a permanent intergovernmental body established by the United Nations General Assembly in 1964. The organization is governed by its 194 member States and is the United Nations body responsible for dealing with economic and sustainable development issues with a focus on trade, finance, investment and technology. It helps developing countries to participate equitably in the global economy. UNCTAD carries out economic research, produces innovative analyses and makes policy recommendations to support government decision-making.

Division on Globalization & Development Strategies at UNCTAD

The Division promotes policies at the national, regional and international level that are conducive to stable economic growth and sustainable development. It regularly examines the trends and prospects in the world economy, undertakes studies on the requirements for successful development strategies and on the debt problems of developing countries. It also provides technical support to developing countries in their efforts to integrate into the international financial system and to manage their external debt.

Young Scholars Initiative

YSI is a community of 16000+ students, young professionals, and researchers from across the globe pursuing new and critical ways of thinking about the economy. You are invited to become a member and join any of 21 working groups on topics such as sustainability, gender, inequality, development, financial stability, and more. Membership enables you to participate in community-organized webinars, workshops and conferences all over the world. Join and connect with like-minded peers and experts in your field of study!
